DISAFFECTION.—The condition of the country, at the present time, should induce every true lover thereof, to adopt and stand square up to such measures as may be deemed requisite for the restoration of peace upon the basis proposed by the Federal Administration. Too many men deride the idea that any action in political affairs at a point so remote from the great battlefield could have a bearing upon the results; but a little cool reflection will convince them of error, and satisfy them that among the elements employed in the wiping out of treason, moral influence is by no means insignificant. The news of unanimity among the friends of the Administration in this city, or county, or State, will be received cheerily by those at home who bear the heat and burden of the fight, insofar as it sustains them in deeds upon the result of which depends our own permanent prosperity. It is idle to assert that there are no great issues to be decided at the coming election aside from the Presidential campaign, it is the most important in which our people are ever permitted to participate. The sentiments expressed by the people of Oregon on Monday next will be re-echoed in both halls of our National Council, and exercise their proportionate influence in making secure or disrupting our Union of States.

MURDERED BY SNAKE INDIANS.—We are informed that on Tuesday morning, May 17th, twelve well armed Snake Indians attacked a small party of white men near the Mountain House, about half way between the Dalles and Canyon City, and Benj. Harding, (who it is said has a family in or near Portland) was almost instantly killed. An old man named Rogers was also shot in the arm. The others of the party escaped uninjured and returned to the Mountain House, whence these Indians had stolen their cattle the night previous. The cattle were recovered, but the Indians escaped. Unless a larger military force is sent into that section, traveling in small parties must be unsafe all summer, and the development of the mines retarded.

MURDER AT UMATILLA CITY.—We are informed by a private letter from Umatilla, that at midnight of the 25th, a man named Smith, a packer, was murdered in cold blood by Joe Simpson, formerly a barkeeper at the Dalles. Simpson mounted a horse and fled, but was overtaken and arrested. He waived an examination, confessed the murder, and was committed for trial. It was thought he would be sent to the Dalles for safe-keeping, owing to the excited state of the public mind, and apprehensions that he might receive his dues without a due process of law.

FEAR IN ENGLAND.—There is a great alarm in England lest the small farmers worth four or five hundred pounds will emigrate to the United States and purchase farms in the West, particularly in those States where, in consequence of the rebellion, improved lands may now be bought very cheaply and can be made immediately productive.

GETTING EVEN ON INDIANS.—About a fortnight since, while prospecting for quartz on the South Boise, Fred. Patterson and his party found a camp of Snakes. A desperate fight ensued, in which twelve of the Siwashes were killed and twenty of their squaws captured. One white man was wounded.

The range of employment for women is certainly increasing. A barber in Bangor, Maine, employs women as assistants, and it is reported that they prove very dextrous and efficient. If the innovation should spread, it will head off the beard movement.

THE EMIGRATION.—Dispatches from Salt Lake, dated May 21st, say:

Passengers from the East report that the roads are lined with emigrants to Idaho, Oregon, Nevada and California. They have taken an early start, and will soon pass this city. Droves of horses and mules have already passed.

Prentice delivers himself of the following: "If we do our duty, the spring campaign will be to the rebel Confederacy its fall campaign."

San Francisco pays $97,300 per annum to school teachers.

The Copperheads are bitter in their complaints against the proposed action of the Administration, looking to an utter and absolute extermination of the system of American slavery. They hug the hideous phantom to their disloyal breasts until their every thought reeks with a putrid flood of blackest treason. They claim that the Government of the United States is unjust and cruel to the loyal slaveholders of the South because it is found necessary to end the rebellion by removing the cause. These same Copperheads never express any sympathy with the weeping widows and wailing orphans of the North, whose natural supporters have offered up their bodies as living sacrifices upon the altar of their country; they never contribute of their means to assuage the thirst of the dying upon the battle-field, or provide necessaries for the wounded defenders of our National integrity. The "wool" is pulled so far over their eyes that they cannot see the index finger of destiny, pointed as it is to a speedy annihilation of treason, traitors and slavery, but we hope the eye of every loyal man will be fixed upon them, so that, in the future, when the halcyon day shall dawn, these Copperheads can be pointed out and remembered as foes of their country and not to be trusted.

MINERS LUCK.—The Burlington Hawkeye relates the following experience. We suppose it may be true as to Pike's Peak; we hope the Idaho chaps will do better, though after all, there is a great deal of good sense in the last few sentences, which the farmers of Oregon may well ponder:

Thousands upon thousands of the citizens of this and other States, are wending their way to Idaho. They go out 'big' with hope, but if nine out of every ten of these emigrants, don't return this fall "leaner" than Scotch herring, then we know nothing about gold-hunting. We think we know something about this gold business. We were among the first to scale the mountains, some fifteen miles west of Denver, in search of gold in the Pike's Peak region. Didn't we build castles in the air? Didn't we say we would n't loan to any one our carriage, nor our carriage-horses? Didn't we write to "Hattie," and tell her not to let "our" children run any more with poor white trash? Ah, and didn't we—return poorer 'nor Job's turkey? This hunting of gold, is a pleasing business. The one that hunts after the precious ore, is all the time under the influence of a pleasing excitement. His dreams are sweet, and he often sees "whalin" nuggets hanging on the rocks, way down in the "shaft," hundreds of feet below the mountain top. He is up early, cooks a scanty breakfast, consisting of a cup of coffee, minus milk and sugar, "sops" a chunk of bread in gravy made from the frying of sow-belly, and when his lunch is over, he licks his chops, wipes his mouth on his shirt sleeves, and is off, with pick and shovel, to his gulch or lode diggings. He digs all day long in water and mud up to his knees. But what of that? He is hunting for gold! And what is it that a man won't do for gold? Night comes on. Old Sol begins to throw his rainbow hues along the sides of the grey mountains, and he returns to his little bower, nestled among the pines, on the banks of the rippling brook. He gathers up a few pine sticks and pine knots, and cooks his supper; and when the mantle of night is thrown over those old grand majestic, snow-capped mountains, peering to Heaven, he wraps himself in his blanket, or robe, and lays himself down to pleasant dreams again, and perchance to dream of loved ones at home. On the morrow he repeats yesterday's work, and so on for months; and finally, disheartened and discouraged, he breaks up camp, and with his face turned homeward he starts for the States, and after weary days and nights, he arrives at home, clothed in the habiliments of the Greek slave.

The above is no overdrawn picture: its merely a "synopsis" of a history that hundreds who were in the mountains at the Peak, during the spring and summer of '59, will corroborate. One person perhaps, in ten, made money; but it takes money to make money in a gold country. It requires, as a general thing, more capital to make money here, than there. There is gold in the Rocky Mountains, from the north pole to the south pole. Some lodes are richer than others, and the same can be said of gulches; but he who has a 'home' here, if it be but forty acres, will rue, bitterly, the day he sold it and emigrated to the gold region. Let the young man go, who, when he has his hat on his head, his house is covered. If he makes no money, and even loses what he took with him, no one will suffer for his folly but himself.

WITHDRAWS.—By reference to the card in another column, it will be perceived that Mr. J. C. Carson, whose name appears on the "Independent Union ticket" for County Commissioner, after reflection, declines the honor. This gentleman was not upon the list of regular nominees, and therefore declines to divide the Union vote. The cards of Messrs. Atkinson, Corbett and Burrage, which appeared in our issue of yesterday, denying all knowledge of their names being attached to the Independent ticket until its appearance on Saturday, will not fail to set them right before the community, and make them stronger—if possible—by the independent concession of their fitness, and keep their record of fealty as pure as are their principles.

FROM CANYON CITY—SUPPOSED MURDER. A correspondent writing from the above place under date of May 17th, says that the body of a man named William Carr was found about half a mile below the city, on the 12th, supposed to have been murdered for his money. The Indians are very troublesome in that vicinity, and scarcely a day passes but intelligence is received of some depredation committed by them. Times are represented as lively thereabouts. The political horizon indicates the total annihilation of the Copperhead ticket, and both parties are putting forth their most earnest efforts.

The Chicago Tribune dashes off the following apt parallel, based upon a local incident of some notoriety:

When you hear a Copperhead bewail the expense of this war, and assert that it must be stopped to save an enormous war-debt, tell him the lamentable story of old Green, who, Chicago readers will remember, was tried once for his life, on a charge of wife-murder. The most frightful feature of his situation was the invasion of his cherished hoards. A new trial was granted him on technical grounds. He forthwith called a council of war in his cell, in the Chicago jail, and gravely discussed with his attorneys the probable cost of going on with the case. Thoroughly alarmed at the financial exhibit, he hanged himself in his cell the same night to save the expense. The peace demagogues would bring this Union to the same fate on like grounds, but until poor old Green's act is approved by honest-minded men, the present peace schemes will hardly pass muster as the best policy.

GRANT AND MCCLELLAN.—A Copperhead was discoursing with a Union acquaintance on the street, and took occasion to allude to General Grant as a savage butcher—a man who was utterly reckless of the lives of his men—very different from McClellan, who had some humanity. "Yes," responded the Unionist, "Grant is a little rough; and he is different from McClellan in another respect—he appears to be utterly reckless of the lives of the enemy; never stops after he has thrashed to let them get away, but keeps following them up as though he meant to clean them out." The admirer of McClellan changed the subject.—Bulletin.

Letter from Placerville.

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

PLACERVILLE, Boise Co., I. T., May 22d, 1864.

Since my last we have had a sprinkling of the weather called by Californians "Web-foot," and for once the miners have had enough and to spare of this much sought element. Grimes' creek has overstepped the bounds laid out for it—filling up all the claims, and doing each company a damage of say $200. The creeks in this district being so short, we have not felt the influence of the rain. The "oldest inhabitant," will hereafter have nothing wonderful to relate in regard to weather in this region.

NEW DITCH.

The long talked-of and much needed "West Creek Ditch," is now being rapidly pushed to completion, and will be felt materially among the miners where claims have gone begging for water in times past. This ditch will cover a vast country now dry, and which rumor has it will pay more than the average.

POLITICS

are beginning to be seriously discussed among us, and the place hunters are busy "sounding" the honest miners as to how they will cast their vote.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A man, whose name is unknown, was accidentally killed on French Gulch last week, by a tree falling upon him while in the act of running from his tent to escape it. Two men who were asleep in the tent at the time, were uninjured; although the tree fell across them. The branches struck the ground on each side of them in such a manner as to bear up the trunk. A narrow escape, certainly, and likely to be long remembered.

FERRY DIFFICULTY.

The Payette Ferry Company and the Central Ferry have had some difficulty as to the crossing of their patrons, which has finally resulted in the death of Mr. Partin, the proprietor of the Central Ferry, and the wounding of Parrlote, the proprietor of the Payette Ferry, and, as shown by evidence, the aggressor in the matter. His examination will come on when he can leave his bed.

A FIGHT.

Pat Lovelock, and a man, name unknown, had a set-to at Idaho City this morning, which resulted in the supposed mortal wounding of the unknown. Lovelock received a severe gash across the bowels, and lost a finger off his right hand. The merits of the case I did not hear.

A man was accidentally drowned, during the week, in Grimes' Creek; cause—bad whisky.

STATISTICS.

The City Assessor of Placerville has just completed his labors, and informs me that the real and personal property of the place amounts to $308,635, distributed among some 250 persons and firms. This assessment is very reasonable, and in my opinion, is far below the real value of the city.

At the International, to-day, I saw my friend Whitehouse, who did the honors of the "Hotel de Arrigoni" in times past, and whose smiling face reminds me that he is the only man who knows how to keep a hotel.

CRAYON.

TACTICS OF BRIGHAM YOUNG.—A Scotchman who has just returned to his own country, after trying to live as a Mormon at Salt Lake, has written for the Dundee Advertiser an account of his religious experience among the Saints. Two of his illustrations of Mormon character are as follows:

If I wished to buy a cow, my employer having one to sell, I am allowed a bushel of wheat at two dollars. Well, suppose I want a cow and ask, "What is the value of your cow?" "Thirty-five dollars," says my employer. I have say twenty bushels of wheat in his hands. "I say, "Let me have five dollars and the cow." "Stop a little," says my employer; "what is the price of wheat in the city? I believe it is worth seventy-five or eighty cents there. I will allow city prices and no more." So I have to pay more than forty bushels of wheat for my thirty-five dollar cow; and that is Utah brotherly love. A young man in Salt Lake City was offered twenty-five dollars a month by a Gentile merchant, and being a very religious person, he went to Brigham to get counsel about it. Brigham said, "You may work for me; I am as able to give twenty-five dollars a month as he." The young man worked for Brigham until he wished to go somewhere else, then went to Brigham for his money; who gave him an order for fifteen dollars a month, at which the young man demurred and said, "You promised me twenty-five dollars." "You are mistaken my dear brother; I only said I was as able as the Gentile to give twenty-five dollars a month; I did not say I would give it."

SKETCHES OF GENERALS GRANT AND SHERMAN.—The Washington National Intelligencer remarks:

Grant, like his mother before him, never jokes, and rarely laughs. He never uses a profane or indecent word, abhors dispute, and has never had a personal controversy in his life with a boy or man, never made a speech, led a faction, or engaged in idle sport; never sad, he is never gay; always cordial and cheerful, yet always reserved. If he cannot be perfectly sincere he is perfectly silent. Tolerant yet enthusiastic, he is always moderate, always earnest. He seems destitute of ostentation, and totally unqualified to display himself even to gratify reasonable curiosity, yet he is not ashamed of himself, and appears to contemplate his early and his late career with equal and with simple satisfaction.

An army correspondent gives this description of Gen. W. T. Sherman:

He is probably an inch less than six feet in height, and apparently 45 years old. His frame is of good size, but a moderate development of muscle gives him an appearance of being more slender than he really is. His hair and eyes are dark; his forehead high, and so exceedingly fair, that, standing as it does in marked contrast with his hair and eyes, it is his prominent feature. His cheeks are marked with deep lines, while age's crow has made a very palpable track at the corner of either eye. A benevolent countenance, together with a kind and genial manner, make him look more like a minister than the war-dog he is.

ONE OF THE OLD FASHIONS.—A writer in the Atlantic Monthly, speaking of the old fashion of wedding sermons, says:

The practice of wedding discourses among the Puritans, was handed down into the last century, and sometimes beguiled into rather startling levities. For instance, when Parson Smith's daughter was to marry Mr. Branch, the father had permitted the saintly maiden to decide on her own text for the sermon, and she meekly selected "Mary hath taken the better part, which shall not be taken away from her," and the discourse was duly pronounced. But when her wild young sister was bent on marrying a certain Squire Adams, called John, whom her father disliked, she boldly suggested for the text, "John came neither eating bread nor drinking wine, and ye say he hath a devil." But no sermon stands recorded under this prefix, though Abby lived to be the wife of one President of the United States, and the mother of another.

CLOSE CONSCRIPTING.—An army correspondent writing from Knoxville, says:

I listened, a few days since, to a butternut clad individual, who succeeded in making good his escape, expatiating eloquently on the rigidness with which the conscription was enforced south of the Tennessee river. His response to a question propounded by a citizen ran somewhat in this wise:

"Do they conscript close over the river?"

"Hell, stranger, I should think they did! They take every man who hasn't been dead more than two days!"

If this is correct the Confederacy has at least a ghost of a chance left.

PUBLIC SPEAKING YESTERDAY.—The citizens of Willamette Precinct were addressed by the regular Union nominees, and were apparently convinced by the eloquent and irrefutable arguments of the speakers. There is little doubt but that such effective addresses will place the success of the regular Union ticket beyond peradventure.

ROUGH ON JOHNNY.—"John," said a father to his son one day, when he caught him shaving the down from his upper lip, "don't throw your shaving water out where there are any bare-footed boys, for they might get their feet pricked."

GEN. BANKS AT NEW ORLEANS AND A YANKEE'S TACTICS.—Referring to the mixed condition of the people, politically, in New Orleans a correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, makes the following introductory statement:

The process of assimilating the chaotic elements is a slow one. General Banks has made it a study and has done much towards success. He has pursued a conciliatory policy. During the winter he took the lead in social enjoyment and intercourse. The camp and the ball room are different agencies, but in subjugating a State or a city, where numbers of women dwell, the music of the waltz is as efficient as the music of the march. You will remember how Napoleon tranquilized Paris by a review at the Champs de Mars or a fete at the Tuileries. New Orleans has more in common with Paris than any city in America, and Banks' winter campaign has thus been Napoleonic. The lady of the commanding general was the leader of the fashion. Her balls were the most magnificent; her receptions were largely patronized; her entertainments beyond anything that had ever been known in New Orleans. She was surrounded by ladies, wives and daughters of Yankee officers and Yankee merchants, making as brilliant a circle as ever adorned the drawing room of a palace. What could poor woman do? She loved the "bonnie blue flag," her "Maryland," and her "Southern Confederacy," but she must see the fashions and show her own new dress. She came to see the Yankee party, and her friends came; and, according to gossip, they found our Yankee officers no such fearful [illegible] for they danced and made sweet speeches, and had a certain degree of manly beauty. Before the season was over the anxiety to see and be seen at these festivals of the General and his friends, was as great among the rebel ladies as it was among the ladies who believed in the Union, and a few of them were actually married and given in marriage to Yankee officers.

Catarrhal Cough—This insidious and annoying symptom, so difficult to treat, depends upon a subacute inflammation of the air passages, which is apt to end in chronic ulceration and a form of consumption. The mucous membrane of the air passages is peculiarly susceptible to the healing influences of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, as the testimonials of some of our first citizens show.

Retiring from the Practice of Medicine.
A CARD.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY begs leave to announce to the public, and particularly to his patrons on the Pacific Coast, that he is about to close his business, with the view of retiring for the present from the arduous labors of his profession.

As it is his intention during the ensuing Fall to leave the United States, for the purpose of visiting Europe, he will not receive any new patients after the first day of July, 1864. Those, therefore who may desire his services will apply within a reasonable time. Dr. Czapkay desires to assure those who are now under his care, that they will continue to receive all the attention which his obligations prescribe and their cases respectively demand. Those who hold contracts guaranteeing a cure are hereby requested to report to Dr. Czapkay before the first day of June, 1864, whether or not they are satisfied that a cure has been effected in their cases respectively. All who do not thus report within the time specified will be regarded and treated as cured.

In taking leave of his patients and the public, Dr. Czapkay desires to express his profound gratitude for the extraordinary patronage bestowed upon him, and the confidence reposed in his professional ability.

During his residence in California, Dr. Czapkay has treated successfully upwards of twenty-five thousand patients, which is the best guarantee that his course of treatment has been rewarded with a success at once personally gratifying and almost unprecedented in the annals of medicine.

Any physician in good standing, who may desire to purchase the interest of Dr. Czapkay in his "Institute," and the good will of his business, may make application on state proposals.

Address Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S PRIVATE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,

THE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—The reading room of the Library Association will be formally opened for the use of members, to-morrow. All the papers and periodicals that are usually sold at the book stores are placed on file, and can be found regularly hereafter at the rooms of the Association, and as members only are entitled to its benefits, the present is a good time to join. The following report of the Recording Secretary, showing the financial condition of the Association, was presented last evening:

To the Directors of the Library Association of Portland:

GENTLEMEN—In compliance with your order, I respectfully beg leave to present the following statement of the financial affairs of the Association:

Deficit		$ 954 14

Rooms have been rented for three years at $50 per month, which is payable out of the current expense fund.

There are a few bills unpresented, amounting to about $50.

To meet the obligations accrued and to accrue, for the quarter ending on the 1st of July next, will require that at least $1,100 be raised from initiations and quarterly dues, or by special donation to the current expense fund.
W. S. CALDWELL,
PORTLAND, May [illegible], 1864. Rec. Sec'y.

P. S.—I am directed to state that the rent for the three months ending August 1st, [$150] has been credited upon the lease as a special donation.
W. S. C.

THE RETURN.—We noticed the departure a few days since, of a party of prospectors on the hunt for pitch. They have returned, and give us the res[illegible] their observations. One day was [illegible] getting to the "camp" [illegible] second day some eight trees we[illegible] which yielded six gal[illegible] several trees were [illegible] yielded twenty-[illegible] amount for the day [illegible] the fourth day five [illegible] on the fifth day [illegible] gallons as the [illegible] average number [illegible] pitch, if we are [illegible] cents per pound, [illegible] give the party but [illegible] constituted the [illegible] "grub" their [illegible] course this was [illegible] little better [illegible] a man who carried a can [illegible] market and realized one [illegible] all experiments [illegible] disadvantages, [illegible] apprehend a few drawbacks [illegible] cause the business to be abandoned [illegible].

[illegible] RENT.—A chance [illegible] to make their [illegible] some of the vagabonds [illegible] at night, disturbing [illegible] and attempting to en[illegible] was so persistent in [illegible] admittance to a private [illegible] Sunday night, [illegible] outside doors, and [illegible] windows, before he desisted from his [illegible] occupants happened to be women and children, or the intruder would [illegible] have received what he most deserved [illegible] the way of a leaden message. To [illegible] is impossible with such custom[illegible] fail to give a satisfactory [illegible] themselves, and in the absence of an [illegible] municipal police system, every house [illegible] constituted his own guardian, the [illegible] his own domicil, and must use his [illegible] discretion in the enforcement of his regulations.

A LAKE.—The high water has replenished the "bottom," below the Gas Works with an abundance of water, and promises to supply that part of the city with a navigable depth at least while the present high stage lasts. The floods now cover a district sufficiently spacious for all kinds of aquatic sports, and row-boats, sail-boats, and even steam-boats have been employed there this week, without regard to breakers or sharks. The steamer Loyal Ellsworth was up to within one block of the Gas Works on Monday. Usually the site is enlivened with trials of the speed of favorite horses, but the water is too much for that class of exercise at present.

NOVEL PLACE TO CONSTRUCT A NEST.—The swallows that have for several seasons nested about Couch's wharf, in this city, have taken up with the steamer Senator, and appear to be quite at home on board of her, building their nests, and rearing their young, in the folds of the life preservers of the steamer, under the hurricane deck. As soon as the steamer is landed from her trips the birds seek their nests, and sometimes accompany the boat to Oregon City. They are treated much in the same spirit as "Mother Carey's Chickens," by the matelot at sea.

CHANGE OF BASE.—The ferry boat running from the foot of Stark street, has made a new landing place on the east side of the river, and for the present will give teams the advantage of steam, for several rods of their road which is inundated.

FUN AMONG SHEEP.—About two hundred head of sheep were loaded on the steamer Wilson G. Hunt last evening intended for the Dalles. Considerable merriment was afforded the boys, in driving them to the wharf.

SANTIAM QUARTZ.—Mr. W. D. Carter has received a few specimens of the Santiam quartz, for assay, which look to be rich. We are promised the results for publication, as soon as the test is made.

TREASURE.—The bullion by Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express last evening, amounted to two hundred and fifty pounds, the most part of which was Boise dust.

LINE DOWN.—The news is meagre this morning, in consequence of the line being down between Roseburg and Jacksonville.

THE RETURN.—We noticed the departure a few days since, of a party of prospectors on the hunt for pitch. They have returned, and give us the result of their observations. One day was consumed in getting to the "camp" they had selected; the second day some eight trees were "tapped," which yielded six gallons of pitch; the third day several trees were "tapped," one of which yielded twenty-seven gallons, the whole amount for the day being thirty-nine gallons; the fourth day five gallons were gathered, and on the fifth day they returned, bringing fifty gallons as the reward for their labors. The average number of pounds to the gallon of pitch, if we are correct, is nine: this, at four cents per pound, the general price, would give the party but $18 for their labor; two men constituted the party, and after paying for "grub" their dividends must be small. Of course this was only an experiment, and paid but little better than in the case of a man who carried a can of pitch ten miles to market and realized one cent from the sale of it. But all experiments have their advantages and disadvantages, and we do not apprehend a few drawbacks like these will cause the business to be abandoned wholly and totally.

CHANCES FOR DISTINGUISHMENT.—A chance is offered the private police to make their mark, by arresting some of the vagabonds that infest our streets at night, disturbing persons, entering lots, and attempting to enter houses. One fellow was so persistent in his efforts to obtain admittance to a private house on Washington street, Sunday night, that he tried all of the outside doors, and one of the lower windows, before he desisted from his purpose. The only occupants happened to be women and children, or the intruder would undoubtedly have received what he most deserved, in the way of a leaden message. Too rough usage is impossible with such customers, when they fail to give a satisfactory account of themselves, and in the absence of an effective municipal police system, every householder is constituted his own guardian, the protector of his own domicil, and must use his own discretion in the enforcement of his regulations.

A LAKE.—The high water has replenished the "bottom," below the Gas Works with an abundance of water, and promises to supply that part of the city with a navigable depth at least while the present high stage lasts. The floods now cover a district sufficiently spacious for all kinds of aquatic sports, and row-boats, sail-boats, and even steam-boats have been employed there this week, without regard to breakers or sharks. The steamer Lovel Ellsworth was up to within one block of the Gas Works on Monday. Usually the site is enlivened with trials of the speed of favorite horses, but the water is too much for that class of exercise at present.

NOVEL PLACE TO CONSTRUCT A NEST.—The swallows that have for several seasons nested about Couch's wharf, in this city, have taken up with the steamer Senator, and appear to be quite at home on board of her, building their nests, and rearing their young, in the folds of the life preservers of the steamer, under the hurricane deck. As soon as the steamer is landed from her trips the birds seek their nests, and sometimes accompany the boat to Oregon City. FEW AMONG SHEEP.—About two hundred head of sheep were loaded on the steamer Wilson G. Hunt last evening intended for the Dalles. Considerable merriment was afforded the boys, in driving them to the wharf.

SANTIAM QUARTZ.—Mr. W. D. Carter has received a few specimens of the Santiam quartz, for assay, which look to be rich. We are promised the results for publication, as soon as the test is made.

TREASURE.—The bullion by Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express last evening, amounted to two hundred and fifty pounds, the most part of which was Boise dust.

LATE DOWN.—The news is meagre this morning, in consequence of the line being down between Roseburg and Jacksonville.

CAMP MEETING.—On Friday afternoon of last week the Methodist Society commenced a series of meetings in camp, about three miles east of this city, under the direction of the Presiding Elder, Rev. Wm. Roberts, and Rev. C. H. Hall of the Milwaukie Circuit, with other brethren of the ministry. The services were well attended, and concluded with the exercises of yesterday forenoon.

LADIES' SANITARY AID SOCIETY MEETING.—The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Sanitary Aid Society will be held at the residence of Gov. Gibbs this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

BOUND OVER.—The Indian who did the cutting on Saturday evening last, was bound over upon examination yesterday, to appear before the Grand Jury.

THE sloop Harvest Queen was loading yesterday, and will leave to-morrow for Astoria. She is about forty tons burthen, and is a model craft, said to be a very fast sailer.

THE LAST CALL.—Collector Graves advertises that the ten per cent. additional will be charged, after 4 o'clock this afternoon, on all United States licenses remaining unpaid.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:
Without due consideration I consented to have my name used on an Independent Union Ticket for the office of County Commissioner. I now believe it was a wrong move, and I am not a candidate. I would not detract one drop from the Union cause either in its local or general bearing.
Respectfully yours, J. C. CARSON.
Portland, May 30, 1864.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:
SIR:—In view of the fact that statements have been made touching my loyalty, I am induced to make the following statement. I am and have ever been in favor of the vigorous prosecution of the war for the suppression of the rebellion and the perpetuity of the Union.
my30dtf Respectfully yours, O. RISLEY.

EMBROIDERY.—In days of yore embroidering was esteemed so long and wearysome a task, that Perault condemned a beautiful princess to embroider her wedding dress with the rays of the sun. Now a day's embroidering is made a pleasure instead of a toil. With the Grover & Baker sewing-machine the most beautiful embroidery can be worked with the same ease, rapidity and perfection that it performs all other kinds of sewing. This faculty of the sewing-machine, which is peculiar to Grover & Baker's, must prove of infinite value to ladies who desire to keep up with the fashion of embroidered garments, now so popular.—*N. Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crisis of female life it will be found eminently useful, and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants.—Sold by all Druggists and Dealers everywhere. ap26ilm

STOP THAT COUGHING!
SOME OF YOU CAN'T, AND WE PITY YOU. YOU have tried every remedy but the right one; and that one is destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supersede all similar preparations. It is not surprising ... d be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure; but

NEWELL'S
Pulmonary Syrup!
Is really what is claimed for it; namely, the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefited by the surprising curative powers of

NEWELL'S
Pulmonary Syrup!
And with one accord give it their unqualified approbation. We now address ourselves to all who are unacquainted with this, the Greatest Panacea of the Age, for the healing of all Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, assuring you that

NEWELL'S
Pulmonary Syrup!
Has cured thousands, and it will cure YOU if you try it.

This invaluable medicine is pleasant to the taste; soothing, healing and strengthening in its effects; entirely free from all poisonous or deleterious drugs, and perfectly harmless under all circumstances.
Certificates from many prominent citizens of San Francisco, accompany every bottle of

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®
NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

April 20, 1864.

BY PRIVATE MILES O'REILLY.

Three years ago to-day
We raised our hands to Heaven,
And on the rolls of muster
Our names were thirty-seven;
There were just a thousand bayonets,
And the swords were thirty-seven,
As we took the oath of service
With our right hands raised to Heaven.

Oh, 't was a gallant day
In memory still adored,
That day of our sun-bright nuptials
With the musket and the sword!
Shrill rang the fifes, and bugles blared,
And beneath a cloudless Heaven
Twinkled a thousand bayonets,
And the swords were thirty-seven.

Of the thousand stalwart bayonets
Two hundred march to-day;
Hundreds lie in Virginia swamps,
And hundreds in Maryland clay;
And other hundreds, less happy, drag
Their shattered limbs around;
And envy the deep, long, blessed sleep
Of the battle-field's holy ground.

For the swords—one night a week ago,
The remnant, just eleven,
Gathered around a banqueting board
With seats for thirty-seven;
There were two limped in on crutches,
And two had each but a hand
To pour the wine and raise the cup
As we toasted "Our flag and land!"

And the room seemed filled with whispers
As we looked at the vacant seats,
And, with choking throats, we pushed aside
The rich but untasted meats;
Then in silence we brimmed our glasses,
As we rose up—just eleven,
And bowed as we drank to the loved and the dead
Who had made us THIRTY-SEVEN!

—Harper's Weekly.

SUCH A RATTER.—A correspondent of the Brooklyn Times furnishes that paper with an amusing account of his experience with a terrier which he bought from a dealer, on the recommendation that he was "such a ratter." He had some trouble at first in getting a rat on which to try his "pup." He succeeded at last and says:

However, the next day I was so fortunate as to secure from a boy in the market, a fine old-line, bob-tailed rat, whose furious efforts to chaw everything within reach, gave promise of glorious sport for Nip. Took the rat home, called in my dog, and told my wife that if she wanted to see the way that terriers did rats, to come down in the basement. She came down and shut the door, just in time, too; for as soon as Nip saw the rat, he, Nip, my ratter, for which I paid the old gent five dollars, made a most unmistakably cowardly movement towards the hall. Wife, on a chair, said the dog did not appear to see the rat.

Told wife to keep her breath. Thought I would not give nip any reason for not seeing the rat again: so I tied the string, that held the rat, to the dog's hind leg. He saw the rat that time and jumped on the chair by wife. Wife laughed, and shoved him off. Tried the stove next. Got off the stove without being shoved. The rat, however, being an old stager, and not being used to such treatment, made a demonstration on Nip's rear, and I don't believe little Flora Temple ever made better time in the same limits, than that dog and rat made around the room.

First heat, dog had the lead, closely followed by rat, who, on striking the half mile pole (foot stool in the corner,) broke badly; in fact, nearly broke his back, and before he could be brought down, (he was sliding on his back,) dog led him by whole length of string. Didn't stop for wind, but started on the second heat. Got off well together (tied) and went finally around, neck and tail, until they reached the judge's stand (wife standing on chair,) against which dog brought up solid, bringing the judge down in a style pre eminently sudden if not dignified. That heat was decidedly against dog, you may bet, and it was only after much persuasion that the judge would again take her stand.

The third heat may be aptly termed a dead heat. They got off as well apart as they conveniently could, and sailed lively until just as they struck the last quarter, when the rat, which ran about as well on his back as on his four legs; shied the track and got rather queerly wound around a table leg. Dog kept on as fast as the string and length of his hind leg would let him. On raising the rat, he was found to be non compose, totally de funct, in fact, dead. Nip was not much better off.

Wife said that that dog couldn't kill mice. Told her that he had certainly killed that rat; but on viewing the feat in a scientific light, I must confess I did not feel quite satisfied with the performance of my pet, and the next morning gave him away to a milkman, who wanted a ratter to free his stable from the depredations of the vermin. I have not been able to ascertain which left him first, the rats or the dog.

A VISIT TO THE STOCK EXCHANGE—BEDLAM BROKE LOOSE.—I wish I could describe to you the Stock Board. It is the most ludicrous, absurd and remarkable of all the scenes I have witnessed in New York. Imagine a room of the size of the San Francisco Bank Exchange billiard room, with raised seats arranged like a second class melodeon. There are a presiding officer with a wooden hammer to pound his desk in one hand and a drumstick to beat a gong in the other, half a dozen secretaries, three hundred well-dressed, bright and-all-alive business men. It is confusion all the time—a babel of tongues. Everybody has his hat on, with a memorandum book and pencil in his hand, standing up. A stock is called, and pandemonium breaks loose. Half the body rush to the centre of the hall. Everybody at the same time, as loud as lungs can bawl, shouts and bellows and roars in senseless jargon his offers to buy or sell, gesticulating with both arms, shaking every finger, dancing like a howling dervish, bobbing up and down like a Shaking Quaker. There are all tones from the gamut of a one-stringed Chinese fiddle to the deep base of the trombone, or the shrill shriek of the locomotive whistle. The pencil and the memorandum book note the cash sales, the recording secretaries note the time sales, till, when all have bawled themselves hoarse, and turned red in the face, they are brought up with a shout and hammer and gong. The President pounds, and those not operating in that particular stock hiss and call order till the tempest subsides, and the next stock called is the renewal of a similar scene. No language can describe a New York Stock Board. Take the raving maniacs from a mad-house, make them all drunk on tarantula juice, put them in a hot room, with Scotch snuff and red pepper on the stove—and you have an idea of the New York Stock Exchange in an excitement or a panic.—Pixley's Letter to the Bulletin.

WHAT A BOSTON GIRL WANTS.—The editress of the Boston Olive Branch, having received a communication from Nashville, Tennessee, inquiring whether some female printers could be obtained there to go to Nashville, replied as follows:

Every girl in Boston who is old enough to work in a printing office, or any other office, has a lover, whom she would be just as likely to trade off for a Tennessee article as she would, to swap him for a grizzly bear. The idea of a Boston girl who goes to operas, patronizes Julien's concerts, waltzes once a week, eats ice cream, rides in the omnibus, wears satin slippers and sometimes kisses the editor, going to Tennessee, except she goes as the wife of one of your first citizens (editors excepted), is truly ridiculous. Would not a girl in a nice silk dress, pantalettes and shiny gaiter boots, look well trudging through the mud and mire of Nashville, to an old roost of a printing office, the walls of which are covered with posters offering rewards for runaway niggers, while in one corner of the room two old darkies are jerking away at a Ramage press, and in the other the editor squirting tobacco juice all over the floor? Wouldn't she be in a nice fix when the editor and some great brute of a fellow, whom he had offended, got to play at the game of shooting their revolvers across the office at each other's head. Who would make the fire when the devil had run off or the editor was drunk? Who would go home with her, dark nights? Who would take her out to ride on Saturday afternoons, and go to church with her on Sunday? No, sir—a Boston girl would not go to Tennessee for love or money; she can get enough of both nearer home."

PROPHETIC FORESIGHT OF DOUGLAS.—In a recent speech in the House of Representatives, Mr. Arnold, of Illinois, made these interesting statements:

Here I will pause a moment to state a most remarkable prediction made by Douglas in January, 1861. The statement is furnished to me by General C. B. Stewart, of New York, a gentleman of the highest respectability. Douglas was asked by General Stewart, (who was making a New Year's call on Mr. Douglas,) "What will be the result of the efforts of Jefferson Davis and his associates to divide the Union?" Douglas replied: "The Cotton States are making an effort to draw in the border States to their schemes of Secession, and I am too fearful they will succeed. If they do succeed there will be the most terrible civil war the world has ever seen, for years. Virginia will become a charnel house; but the end will be a triumph of the Union cause. One of their first efforts will be to take possession of this Capital to give them prestige abroad, but they will never succeed in taking it; the North will rise en masse to defend it; but it will become a city of hospitals; the churches will be used for the sick and wounded, and even the Minnesota block (now the Douglas Hospital) may be devoted to that purpose before the end of the war." Gen. Stewart inquired, "What justification is there for all this?" Douglas replied, "There is no justification, nor any pretence of any. If they will remain in the Union I will go as far as the Constitution will permit to maintain their just rights, and I do not doubt but a majority of Congress will do the same. "But," said he, rising on his feet, and extending his arm, "If the Southern States attempt to secede from this Union without further cause, I am in favor of their having just so many slaves, and just so much slave territory as they can hold at the point of the bayonet, and no more!"

Daniel O'Connell was once examining a witness, whose inebriety, at the time to which the evidence referred, it was essential to prove. He quickly discovered the man's character. He was a fellow who may be described as "half foolish with roguery."

"Well, Darby, you told the truth to this gentleman?"

"Yes, your honor, Counsellor O'Connell."

"How do you know my name?"

"Ah! sure every one knows our pathriot."

"Well, you are a good-humored, honest fellow, now tell me, Darby, did you take anything that day?"

"Why, your honor, I took my share of a pint of spirits."

"Your share of it; now by virtue of your oath, was not your share of it—all but the pewter?"

"Why, then dear knows, that's true for you, Sir."

The Court was convulsed with both question and answer. It soon, step by step, came out that the man was drunk, and was not, therefore, a competent witness. Thus O'Connell won the case for his client.

PERUVIAN SYRUP,
OR PROTECTED
Solution of Protoxide of Iron,

Has been used with Great Success in Curing

DYSPEPSIA,

Affections of the Liver, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Bronchitis and Consumptive Tendencies, Disordered State of the Blood, Female Complaints, Chronic Diarrhea, Boils, Scurvy, the prostrating effects of Lead or Mercury,

GENERAL DEBILITY,

and all Diseases which require a

Tonic and Alterative Medicine.

THE PROOFS OF ITS EFFICACY are so numerous, so well authenticated, and of such peculiar character, that sufferers cannot reasonably hesitate to receive the proffered aid.

The class of diseases for which the Syrup provides a cure, is precisely that which has so often baffled the highest order of medical skill. The facts are tangible, the witnesses accessible, and the safety and efficacy of the Syrup incontrovertible.

From well-known Citizens of Boston.

The undersigned having experienced the beneficial effects of the "Peruvian Syrup," do not hesitate to recommend it to the attention of the public.

Rev. JOHN PIERPONT, THOMAS C. AMORY,
THOMAS A. DEXTER, PETER HARVEY,
S. H. KENDALL, M D, JAMES C. DUNN,
SAMUEL MAY, Rev. THOS. WHITTEMORE.

Certificate of Dr. Hayes.

It is well known that the medicinal effect of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air, and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron, without further oxidation, has been deemed impossible.

In the Peruvian Syrup, this desirable point is attained by COMBINATION IN A WAY BEFORE UNKNOWN; and this solution may replace all the proto carbonates, citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica. A. A. HAYES, M D, IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to over-estimate its influence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless, until Dr Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER.

without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city, and Prof. Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly," July 6, 1860, page 78.)

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.

Full directions accompany each bottle.

Sold by all Druggists. Price, $1 per bottle. Prepared by Dr H. Anders & Co, Physicians and Chemists, New York.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE REMEDY upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties.

Invigorate the System.

Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutricious blood, and nutritious blood a healthy frame. Does the victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver desire to know how the digestion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system, regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the animal juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.

Strengthen the System.

The best means of imparting vigor to the broken-down frame and shattered constitution, which has yet been invented or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Debility, from whatever cause arising, may be cured; strength, in whatever manner it may have been wasted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthy invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.

A word to the Aged.

In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters,

As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, and acts like a charm upon the spirits.

For Females.

Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and enlightens the depressed mental powers, as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any reaction.

MEDICAL WONDER

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom or an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active, and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor. The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.
